

IAG/AIG meeting in Zaragoza, Spain (September 2005)

by Moshe Inbar

The promised short report on the International Association of Geomorphologists Sixth Conference in Zaragoza - Spain, September 7-11 2005:

There were around a thousand participants, in a nice and modern Convention Center and a well organized meeting. We had a One day excursion and there were several Pre and Post Congress professional excursions.

Five of the Steering Committee of COMLAND - Paul Hudson, Moshe Inbar, Takashi Oguchi, Maria Sala and Xiaoping Yang participated together with at least another 50 members of COMLAND. The most related topics were at the Soil Erosion and Desertification session (with 70 papers including posters).

The new IAG Executive members elected for the 2005-2009 period are:

Andrew Goudie (UK) President
Mike Crozier (NZ) Vice- President
M. De Dapper (Belgium) Secretary
F. Gutierrez, F. (Spain) Treasurer

The next Main Conference (2009) will be held in Australia-New Zealand

Regional Conferences will be in:

September 2006 - Brazil
June-July 2007- Malaysia
August 2007 - Poland
Spring 2008 - Israel
September 2008 - Romania

The IAG Council decided to issue and send a Document on Natural Hazards to several International institutions and Governments.

Moshe Inbar
16 October 2005